

Morten Poulsen & Russ Lossing NY

About

NY is the debut album of drummer and composer Morten Poulsen, featuring american pianist Russ Lossing. Russ and Morten first met in New York in summer 2013. The energy and chemistry was there and the two decided to make sure they would work together again.

Two years after, on a very cold february day, Russ and Morten met up in the recording studio of engineer Paul Wickliff and recorded songs for the album NY, which is the danish word for New. Prior to this, Morten had spent two weeks in New York where he composed music for the album, taking inspiration from the experiences of the city and its history, post-war classical music and reflections on life and personality.

The duo also recorded Etude by Paul Motian

Bio

Russ Lossing is an american pianist, composer and arranger and is known for his unique vision, deep integrity and thoughtfully humanistic voice.
